Women's Conscious Step Socks That Provide Tuition

Not your ordinary socks. These fair trade, organic cotton blend socks give children living in slums in India a step up. Our friends at Conscious Step partner with non-profit organizations to fight poverty and support humanitarian causes around the world. With the purchase of these socks Conscious Step makes a donation to Asha. Successfully completing schools is often a difficult journey for children growing up in slums. Asha provides resource centres where slum children have much-needed opportunities to play, read and learn.
